We are in the process of clearing out the boiler room and are getting rid of some of the items that we no longer need, including numerous stacking wooden tables and metal stacking chairs. We wanted to give parishioners of Holy Trinity the first opportunity to take them, as they will be offered to other parishes next week. The tables and chairs are available to be viewed in the boiler room after mass or during regular office hours. The new owners will be responsible for removal and transportation.

Reminder - If you will be away on weekends during the summer, and you are involved in any of the liturgical ministries, please ask someone to take your place.
